DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 13-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Krasznai et al, 5,065,473 (listed in the Notice of References Cited mailed 23 July 2007) in view of Lenkiewicz et al, 2005/0050672, as set forth in the Office action mailed 05 November 2008. Further, regarding the newly added limitation “having at least two edges extending substantially perpendicular to one another”, ‘473 teaches that window 26 is rectangular, and therefor has at least two edges extending substantially perpendicular to one another. Further, regarding the perpendicular fill lines extending to form a cross, a combination of letters substantially corresponding to a word “maximum” and the filling marks extending over a full length and width of the window, ‘672 teaches the lines forming an “L”, a combination of letters substantially corresponding to a word “maximum” (the combination of letters form the words “fill line” and “full”, which, in this context, correspond to the word “maximum”, in that each word indicates a maximum level in the container), and the lines extending parallel to the edges of the window. Regarding the lines forming a cross, it is noted that such is not critical to the functioning of the device, and can be considered an esthetic feature. As such, one of ordinary skill would consider it obvious to have extended the lines of '672 to form a cross shape. A change in form or shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art, absent any showing of unexpected results. In re Dailey et al., 149 USPQ 47.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 04 February 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Lenkiewicz does not disclose two fill lines, but a line indicating that the container is full, and a line indicating a recommended filling lever. The examiner does not understand how this is distinct from lines indicating that a container holds the recommended level of material. The examiner agrees that Lenkiewicz is concerned with filling the container with material before use, and not with dust during use. However, the teachings of Lenkiewicz are analogous to applicant's claimed invention, in that Lenkiewicz is concerned with the same problem-how to tell when material being placed in a container is at a recommended level.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
